Wednesday 20th May

E-mail: reception@blowers.dudley.sch.uk

Wow, what a busy day yesterday. So many videos were sent in yesterday of you singing the alphabet. The Dojo scores are going to be really high. I wonder who will win this week.

This heart-warming story will show you how easy and rewarding it is to express kindness, appreciation, and love by "filling buckets." <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=3EuemNAo6XE>

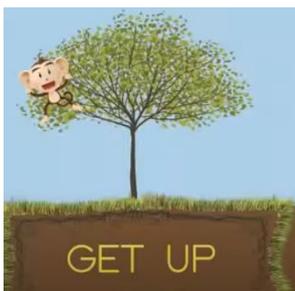

Listen to this song. I think you will be able to join in with the words. Listen and then sing it back.

Number

We have been counting in twos this week. I would like you to go outside and collect 12 sticks. The challenge is to find 2 sticks the same length. Each pair must be a different length. When you find them don't forget to count in twos 2,4,6,8,10,12. Take them home and put them in length order. Start with the longest and end at the shortest. Molly and I went for a walk and collected sticks. When we got home, we painted them and made this rainbow. Another keepsake of our time together. Send me a picture of what you made with your sticks.

Here a song to help you count in twos. Can you sing along to 20?

Phonics

Have a go at reading these captions. Can you match the captions to the correct picture?

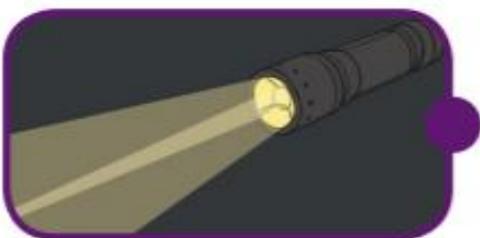

Fish and chips
on a dish.

The light of a torch.

Tools in the shed.

Looking at books.

Digging in the soil.

Today our kindness challenge is to spread a smile. Lets see how many buckets we can fill today.

Smiling Is Infectious by Spike Milligan

Smiling is infectious,
you catch it like the flu,
When someone smiled at me today,
I started smiling too.

I passed around the corner
and someone saw my grin.
When he smiled I realized
I'd passed it on to him.

I thought about that smile,
then I realized its worth.
A single smile, just like mine
could travel round the earth.

So, if you feel a smile begin,
don't leave it undetected.
Let's start an epidemic quick,
and get the world infected!

Molly and I are passing on our smile. Did it make you smile too? We were having a cuddle outside just before bedtime. Let's see how far your smile can travel today. You can even send a smile back to me.

I hope you all have a lovely day. Mrs Macdonald
