

Happy Friday Year 2!

Another week has flown by.

Thank you for all the lovely work you have sent me this week, I have been so impressed! I feel so proud of you all! 😊

I am looking forward to the weekend, are you?

Let's hope the sun shines!

I hope you enjoy your day!

Our first job of the day is....

For the last time this week, record the today's weather in your weather chart for astronaut Anna.

Find out today's weather here.

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/weather>

Now, it's time for maths!

We are going to use our weather charts for our maths today.

Looking at your weather chart, answer these questions.

There is a challenge below for you too if you would like to earn some more dojos.

1. What was the hottest day of the week?
2. What was the coldest day of the week?
3. What is the difference in temperature between the hottest and coldest day?
4. Order the days of the week from coldest to hottest.
5. What is the total of the temperatures on the hottest and coldest days?

Super challenge

What is the same and what is different about the thermometers/temperatures?

Send me your answer and I will give you 2 dojos.

Our next lesson today, is writing

Yesterday, we wrote speech for the alien as he looked at the Earth.

Today, we are going to write speech sentences to tell me what someone on Earth might reply to the alien. What would you say if you knew an alien was looking down on you?

Remember, speech marks (“ ”), go around the words someone has spoken.

“What a wonderful planet,” the alien whispered.

Remember, punctuation goes within the speech marks.

“How is it so big?” shouted the alien.

I want you to write speech sentences telling me what someone on Earth would say to the alien.

Today, focus on using a different word for said. Use the word mat below to help you.

Think about how you would speak to an alien, would you shout to scare them, stammer in fear or whisper in shock?

Can you use a range of punctuation too?

! ? ...

Send me a picture of your sentences.

If you have used different words for said, you might get some dojos!

shouted mumbled called uttered whispered mentioned announced chanted moaned yelled grumbled argued exclaimed retorted murmured screeched responded cried chattered chuckled giggled wailed explained demanded complained babbled bellowed asked replied answered roared replied lied pleaded stated
cackled yawned boasted gasped stammered stormed voiced sobbed screamed observed howled pestered queried recited sighed groaned grunted shrieked
ranted thundered reported uttered remarked

Our last lesson today is PE

I love ending our week with PE, do you?

Let's get moving with Joe Wicks again!

<https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCAxWIXTOiEJo0TYIRfn6r>

YQ

What is your favourite sport?

I like trying to play football with my housemate. I need to keep practising but she is really good! It is fun to play with your friends and get some fresh air.

Well done for all you hard work this week astronauts! I hope you enjoyed your learning.

It's time for our weekend bingo again! How will you do this weekend? I am going to try really hard to cross all of mine off this weekend. Mrs Martin is also going to challenge George and Harry to complete some too. How many do you think they will do? I will ask Mrs Martin on Monday and let you know!

Practise your challenges for 10 minutes.	Read a story to someone in your house.	Give someone a compliment.
Get some fresh air.	Draw a picture.	Make a comfy place to read.
Ask how you can help an adult out.	Tidy up.	Do some exercise.

What are you going to do this weekend?

I have plans to do some painting, video call my family and make a yummy recipe. I'm thinking maybe cookies. What do you think?

Remember, any questions, please email me on the Year 2 email address. Take time to read and get some fresh air this weekend, even if it is just for a few minutes.

Stay safe and take care,
Miss Pylypiak-Clancy 😊