This week we have been focussing on fronted adverbials. Today I want you to read this extract and underline any fronted adverbials.

Spot the fronted adverbials

As quick as a flash, we were in the cave. There was a strange silence, with our breathing the only sound. As tightly as possible, I gripped on to my torch. I could feel the dancing flame gently warming my face. My heart could not have been pounding any faster. All of a sudden, I heard a loud bang! I quickly turned around and realised that Om had tripped on a stone. He caught my gaze and half-smiled. Nervously, we decided to continue through the darkness...

Once you have done this, I would like you to rewrite the extract, editing and changing the fronted adverbials. Then I want you to complete the extract with what happened next. Be imaginative!

Nervously, As quick as a flash, Quickly, Momentarily, Bravely, Certainly amused, Suddenly, Without a sound, After a while, As tightly as possible, All of a sudden, Outside,

Our final lesson today is Music

Begin by listening to this. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=MfusXCI6SEE>

Make a list of the different instruments you can hear. Find the pulse. How does this music make you feel?

This piece is by a composer called Tchaikovsky. He is one of our class focus composers. Using books and the internet, research the composer and create a mind map to tell my important facts about him and his life. It would also be good if you drew a picture of him so that I know what he looks like.

Remember to complete your daily reading and practise all of your challenges ready to earn some Dojos when you are back.

Don't forget....any problems, you can email me. Have a lovely day! From Mrs Martin
